SEMINARS AND COURSES

Cristina Bertrand

The Kěyǐ School was founded in 2010 in Shanghai, China, by Dr. Cristina Bertrand, who developed her break-through methodology for teaching Chinese - Kěyǐ System - after years of multidisciplinary research in universities, academies and schools of Europe, United States and China.

The Kěyǐ School offers courses in Chinese Language, Chinese Culture: Philosophy (Confucianism, Taoism, Chan Buddhism), Geography, History and Art of China.

Dr. Bertrand's doctoral dissertation was a study of the book of wisdom, Yi Jing, which she also teaches through her Kěyǐ School, Yi Jing: A Guide for Life, Yi Jing Inner Wisdom, Yi Jing for Wise Business Decisions and a course of Yi Jing: Wisdom, Leadership and Ethics.

CHINA

China is a fascinating country. Its spectacular geography has determined the course of its history, and the wisdom of the eminent Chinese sages has influenced the development of its society and traditions. Similarly, art has reached heights of excellence in all its manifestation, especially painting. Its famous trees, surrounded by Void in the misty mountains are a universal symbol.

The origins of its wisdom, the Yi Jing, has determined the development of its pillars of wisdom: Confucianism, Taoism and Chan Buddhism.

In this Seminars of Chinese Culture, you will discover many aspects of the Chinese Civilization sometimes unknown to Western countries. The comprehension of these cultural factors will help you to better appreciate this country and its inhabitants.

1. CHINESE WISDOM

The Yi Jing is one of the oldest books in the world, and through the millennia its wisdom has shaped the core of Chinese culture and civilization.

It also constitutes a systematic ethical guide aimed at instilling in human beings moral values that are in harmony with nature.

These principles and guidance are a gift from the Chinese sages to the world.

“In sum, during the growth and development of the Chinese nation, the Zhouyi has been extremely significant and has exerted vital influence. It has permeated all layers of Chinese national culture and has profoundly affected Chinese national politics, economics, sciences, artistic and intellectual areas, axiology, ethics, and matters of the spirit, and ultimate concerns, among others”.

For this reason, one who does not know the Zhouyi cannot really understand Chinese culture, or perceive the essence of Chinese culture, or correctly recognize its true features.

Therefore, the Zhouyi is a key to the door of Chinese culture.”

1.1. YI JING: ORIGIN OF CHINESE WISDOM

YI JING – GUIDE FOR LIFE	1 session	2 hours
--------------------------	-----------	---------

The Yi Jing is a book of Science, Wisdom and Ethics. An understanding of the cultural roots of China will increase every individual's respect for, and appreciation of, the country and its inhabitants. Moreover, as the precursor of the Confucian golden rule, Yi Jing teaches us how to be better people, positively affecting the people who share our lives and work, and benefiting society as a whole.

YI JING: INNER WISDOM	1 session	2 hours
-----------------------	-----------	---------

The wisdom of Yi Jing can be achieved looking to the cosmological situation of the reader – Nature and the Universe. However, to achieve Inner Wisdom it is necessary to consider more profound Yi Jing roots, like binary mathematics and vortex-based mathematics, a specific methodological approach which places human beings in the middle of the cosmos by the creation of an innovative new figure that I call Nonagram.

1.2. THE 3 PILLARS OF CHINESE WISDOM

CONFUCIANISM	1 session	1.30 hours

Confucius was a Chinese philosopher and politician traditionally considered the most important and influential individual in human history. Confucius's teachings and philosophy based in moral principles and harmony, shaped the core of Chinese civilization, and continue guiding its inhabitants. Confucius never traveled without the Yi Jing which he considered the most important book for achieving wisdom and ethics.

TAOISM	1 session	1.30 hours

Lao Tse was a Chinese sage whose origins are still unknown, but Confucius said about him “it escapes my intelligence how can a dragon fly to the sky riding on the clouds and the wind. After having seen Lao Tse today, I think he is a dragon.” Lao Tse discovered the mysteries of the Universe, the Taoist Void, and how to receive its energy. Some of the modern physic theories are based in the principles of Tao.

CHAN BUDDHISM	1 session	1.30 hours

Chan Buddhism has its origins in the Mahayana school of Buddhism during the Tang dynasty and later spreading to Vietnam, Korea, and Japan, where it was called Japanese Zen. However, The Chinese Chan differs from the Indian schools of Buddhism because its essential principles defy all the Mahayana Buddhism's categories and was based, instead, on the simplicity of life and the achievement of wisdom effortlessly.

TRADITIONAL CHINESE MEDICINE	1 session	1.30 hours

As the famous physician Sun Simiao (581-682 Tang Dynasty) said: "He who is not conversant with the Change is not enough to be entitled as eminent physician." Yi Jing introduces the principles of harmony and equilibrium between the universe and human beings. For example, the Hexagrams Peace and Stagnation explore the relationship between health and illness and teaches how to balance the body to regain the lost harmony.

2. GEOGRAPHY, HISTORY AND ART OF CHINA

The wise man loves the rivers and the lakes

The benevolent man loves the mountains.
Confucius

2.1. GEOGRAPHY OF CHINA

STEPPE, DESERTS, PRAIRIES, CULTIVATED LANDS - RIVERS
	1 session	2 hours
MOUNTAINS AND CITIES	1 session	2 hours

In the Yi Jing Trigrams, Heaven, or the Yang and Creative principle, occupies the superior line. Earth, or Yin and Receptive principle occupies the inferior line, and Human Beings occupies the line in the middle.

Geography in China has more than physical features; it is like a living entity which connects harmonically people with the universe through Heaven and Earth

2.2. HISTORY OF CHINA

2070 BC to 618 AD (Tang Dynasty)	1 session	2 hours
618 AD to 1912 (Republic of China)	1 session	2 hours

Many contemporary history books of China refer separately to the political, economic, sociologic events, and sometimes jump back and forward to explain those events. This methodology confuses the reader about the simple flow of events. This seminar is just a very short summary of the chronologically history of China in order to get a glimpse of its millenary and complex history.

2.3. ART OF CHINA

PRINCIPLES OF CHINESE PAINTING	1 session	2 hours
---------------------------------------	------------------	----------------

Chinese art is so linked to Nature that it is difficult to distinguish where the pathway surrounding the mountain begins and where the canvas or paper ends. Confucianism, Taoism, and Chang Buddhism constitute inseparable elements of Chinese art. The Yi Jing hexagrams depict the union of two elements of Nature and place human beings in direct communication with the Universe through the expression of their art.

3. COURSES

3.1. YI JING IN IMAGES: A GUIDE TO WISE BUSINESS DECISIONS

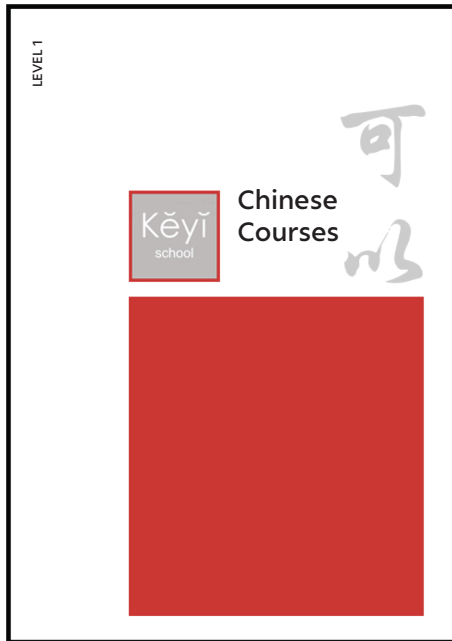

WISDOM, LEADERSHIP AND ETHICS

Students will be able to apply the theoretical learning from class lectures to case studies of management situations, identifying the three components: Image, Meaning and Action. The IMAGE segment will correspond to the statement of the situation, or problem, related to the management of a business situation. The MEANING segment will discover the ideas behind a business situation, and the ACTION segment will offer an active way of solving the problem. In each chapter the students will also discover the WISDOM, LEADERSHIP and ETHICS guidance of the Yi Jing.

By reading and practice the Yi Jing chapters, students will develop analytical and synthetical skills to solve wisely a given situation in an ethical way.

3.2. CHINESE LANGUAGE

CHINESE SIMPLE AND EASY

With the Keyi System the student begins to read, write and speak in Chinese from the very first lesson, with material reasonable and functional to make learning easy and enjoyable. Furthermore, since the vocabulary has been compiled by frequency of use, it is the most practical for the daily communication of Chinese speaking reading and writing.

GROUND-BREAKING TEACHING METHODOLOGY

The innovative system of teaching Chinese - Keyi- was developed by Dr. Cristina Bertrand in Shanghai, China. Dr. Bertrand developed her ground-breaking methodology after a lengthy and comprehensive study of didactic materials and the language teaching methods used in universities, academies and learning centers of the United States, Europe and China.

“Learning Chinese is easy and all of us can master it.”

Dr. Cristina Bertrand
