

EL PRESENTE NO EXISTE

Cristina Bertrand
Chengdu, March 2016

El presente
no existe.
Somos un
futuro continuo.

El presente siempre está cambiando, de pasado a futuro. Por lo tanto, no existe realmente. Lo único que existe es el futuro. La “moda” filosófica de vivir en el presente deja a las personas sin metas por las que esforzarse o sin deseos y esperanzas por un futuro enriquecedor. Metas, deseos y esperanzas son las cosas más importantes en las vidas de las personas. Sin eso, es imposible vivir. El presente no es nada. El futuro es todo. Y vivimos en un futuro continuo.

¿No sería mejor la meta de devolver las aguas al lago Owens en California, árido en la actualidad? Nuestro único poder es el de transformar el futuro.

PRESENT DOESN'T EXIST

Present
doesn't exist.
We are a continuous future.

Present is always changing from past to future, therefore, it really doesn't exist. Past also doesn't exist because it is past. The only thing that exists is the future. The philosophical "trendy" thoughts of living in the present leaves people without goals to strive to or wishes to hope to. Goals, wishes and hopes are the most important things in the lives of people. Without that, is impossible to live. Present is nothingness. Future is all it is. And we live in a continuous future.

Wouldn't be better the goal of giving back the waters to the Owens Lake in California, actually dry? We only have power over the future.
